

TRAINING AND EMPLOYMENT NOTICE	NO. 8-17
	DATE September 29, 2017

TO: STATE WORKFORCE AGENCIES

FROM: BYRON ZUIDEMA
Deputy Assistant Secretary

SUBJECT: Release and Availability of the Significant Provisions of State Unemployment Insurance Laws Effective July 2017

- 1. Purpose. To announce the release and availability of the Significant Provisions of State Unemployment Insurance Laws Effective July 2017.
- 2. Background. The U.S. Department of Labor publishes biannual editions of the Significant Provisions of State Unemployment Insurance Laws that provide key data on unemployment insurance benefits and taxes in the states.
- 3. Publication Description. This publication provides information on each state's wage requirements for unemployment insurance benefit eligibility, computation and amount of the weekly benefit, number of allowable benefit weeks and benefit week calculation, and the amount of earnings that will be disregarded for those individuals who are working part-time. It also provides information on the size of employer payroll required to pay taxes, the amount of wages subject to tax, and tax rates specific to each state's program.

The Significant Provisions publication is available online at <http://ows.doleta.gov/unemploy/statelaws.asp>.

- 4. Inquiries. Comments concerning this publication should be addressed to Loryn Lancaster at 202-693-2994 or at lancaster.loryn@dol.gov, or Julie Balster at 202-693-3615 or at balster.julie@dol.gov. Comments can also be mailed to any of the above at the following address: U.S. Department of Labor; 200 Constitution Avenue NW; OUI/Division of Legislation; Room S-4524; Washington, D.C. 20210.